About this course

This is a variable-credit course that awards credit for students doing internships. Most internships are for two- or four- credits.

The course requires that every student file a job description at the beginning of the semester. (See example that follows. A .pdf of this form is attached.)

Every Monday, send an email that briefly describes what you did in the last week.

You may include links to your work or offer attachments of your work. However, this is not required.

There is no special form for these reports. They're just somewhat informal email updates.

A short (2-3 page) paper reflecting on the internship is due on the last day of the semester. These can be informal, like personal essays. These should be sent as attachments.

At the end of the semester, you will be evaluated by your supervisor. (See attachment that follows.)

Send all material – job description, weekly reports and reflection essay to wmckeen@bu.edu.

We may meet remotely once or twice during the semester, for a checkin.

When you send in your reports, always include your last name as the first wording the subject line of your emails –

- SNERD Job Description
- SNERD Weekly Report 1
- SNERD Essay

Please let us know if there are any workplace issues we should know about. If you find yourself to be harassed or in a hostile work environment, please let me know.

This is a pass-fail course.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

This is the job description form. You will fill out this form. A .pdf of this form is sent along with this syllabus.

Some words about journalism

Favorite fancy-pants or funny quotes

The purpose of journalism is to irritate, infuriate and inform.

Jess Lewis Gardner III
student in the first class I ever taught

The past actually happened, but history is only what somebody wrote down.

A. Whitney Brown
author and former writer and performer on 'Saturday Night Live'

Ninety percent of journalism is saying "Lord Jim Dies" to people who didn't know Lord Jim was alive.

G.K. Chesterton
English novelist and essayist

It is not death or torture or imprisonment that threatens us as American journalists. It is the trivialization of our industry.

Ted Koppel
formerly of ABC News

The job of the newspaper is to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable.

Finley Peter Dunne
early 20th century journalist

The principal difference between a horse and a man is that you cannot rely on a horse to gather news.

Mark Twain
who needs no introduction

I would be a journalist if for no other reason than I would rather drink with journalists than any other people on Earth.

Hunter S. Thompson
gonzo journalist

Reporters aren't very bright as a general rule. I mean, most of us learn to write when we're kids. Then we go on to other things.

Bobby Knight
retired basketball coach

History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be unlived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again.

Maya Angelou,
speaking at President Clinton's first inauguration

Journalism keeps you planted in the earth.

Ray Bradbury
novelist and essayist

If journalism is good, it is controversial by its nature.

Julian Assange

Mark Twain (above) near the beginning of his career as a journalist, when he wrote for the Virginia City (Nev.) Territorial Enterprise. His name was Samuel Clemens, but he wrote under a pseudonym, so as not to embarrass his brother, the territorial secretary. The name he chose came from the old river term "mark twain," which meant "safe water."
